

Righting Time Lab INTRO

How

what

on Land ↑ susceptible to pred/psychopath
on ~~land~~ righting

Why

Fitness

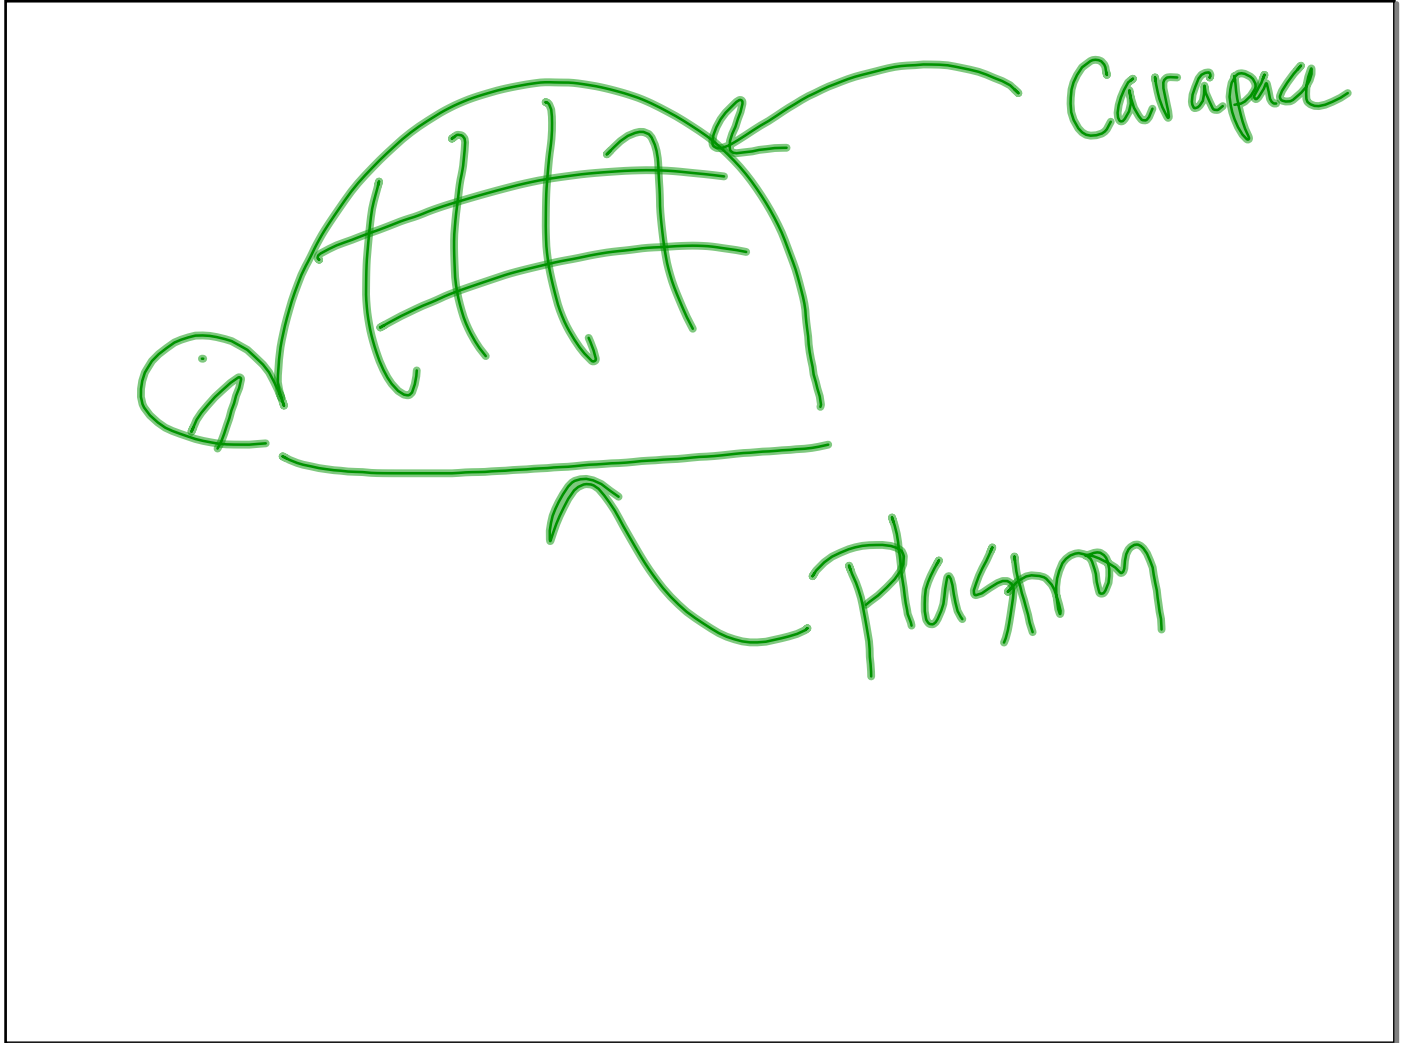

- upside down

↓ Camo
(tummy/plastron)
is brightly colored

righting:

flipping back to Right side up

Timed: to Measure
Speed
- as a proxy/measure
of fitness

Why cont.

Measure of how likely they are to survive w/o Killing Them

The image contains several green hand-drawn scribbles. At the top center is the word "Why" in a cursive-like font, followed by "cont." to its right. Below "Why" are two wavy, horizontal lines. To the left of these lines is a small, simple loop. To the right of the wavy lines is a paragraph of text: "Measure of how likely they are to survive w/o Killing Them".

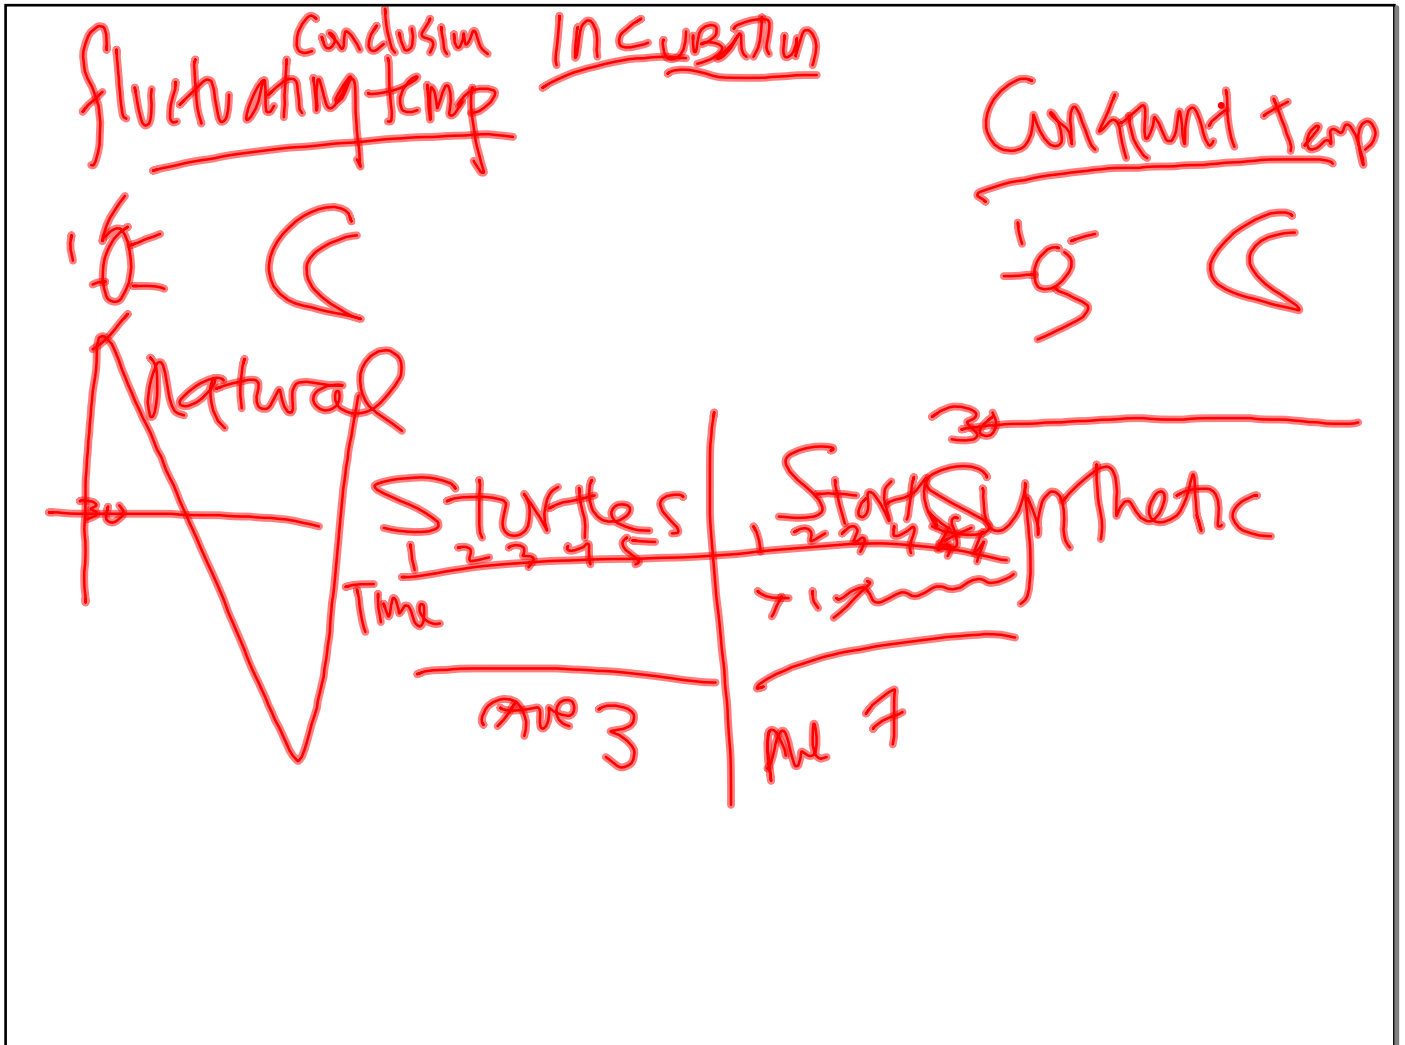

materials

Turtles Stopwatch
paper towel (traction)
Video
- TORTIME

How (materials + methods)

A hand-drawn diagram within a rectangular border. On the left, under the heading 'materials', is a list of items: 'Turtles', 'Stopwatch', 'paper towel (traction)', 'Video', and '- TORTIME'. To the right, under the heading 'How (materials + methods)', is a drawing. It features a red sun with rays, a red turtle with a green grid on its shell, and a red leg. The word 'leg' is written vertically next to the leg drawing.

Fitness cont.

- Upside down

= Vulnerable

- No Escaping when (Eggs are waving in air)

- ↑ Visibility (Camo, movement)

- Dehydrate faster